

The Good Books Club

The Bible is often referred to as “The Good Book.” John Wesley referred to himself as, “A man of one book, a student of many.” “The Good Books Club” is dedicated to reading and discussing a few of the many good books written by Christians.

Club Facilitator: Linda Pierce 517-927-8422

Who is invited?

- Any woman, 16 years and older, that wants to read “the good book” selected for the given Session (4 meetings) and discuss it with others.
- An affirmation of your attendance to Meeting A is requested 24 hours prior (by Wednesday evening), so that refreshments, table set-up, and discussion small groups can be organized prior. Please text or call Linda Pierce at 517-927-8422.

What is the commitment?

- Acquire and read the selected book: The Screwtape Letters, by C.S. Lewis
- Attend the four Good Books Club Meetings, prepared to discuss and share your personal answer to the two fundamental questions (below)
